Whoa! Everything's Backwards

This is a wild and crazy day for kids. We're doing everything in reverse. It's not all fun. It's hard work! Instead of getting dressed for camp, stay in those jammies! We will be eating dessert first with our pancake lunch! We have a feeling that things are going to get crazy. Campers will have a backwards relay race that starts at the finish and the prizes are awarded before you win! We will be experimenting with art through nontraditional means such as painting with our opposite hands, using our heads for more than just thinking!

Cost $3.00

THURSDAY, APRIL 8, 2010

Mad Laboratory

This is your child's chance to become a mad scientist! Messy experiments and creative innovations are encouraged here! Screaming ice, slimy creepy messes, soapy surprises and so much more are in store for the curious camper today! We'll even be cooking up an experiment that will be good enough to eat, but if we tell you too much it will ruin the mystery and possibly the sweet taste of success!

Cost $4.00

Abracadabra!

How did he do that? Is this a trick? It's magic! Campers will be amazed to learn magicians' secrets. They'll engage in hands-on experimentation and become amateur magicians themselves! Baffling Bill the Magician will visit Planet Kids and put on a 30-minute magic show PLUS a 45-minute magic class. The kids will learn 7 different tricks they get to keep.
